Jubilee

 Album.

ISSUED IN COMMEMORATION OF THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE INTRODUCTION OF THE GOSPEL TO THE THREE SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIES BY ELDER ERASTUS SNOW, AN APOSTLE OF JESUS CHRIST; AND FELLOW LABORERS.

PREFACE.

Among the thoughts inspired by the Scandinavian Jubilee in 1900 was the preparation of a Souvenir Album, containing views and portraits representing places of interest, and persons who have been active workers in the Scandinavian mission, since its commencement in 1850. The plan was laid before the Scandinavian Saints, in a circular, and generous responses were received from all parts of the country. The publishers therefore applied themselves to the work, and they now have the pleasure of presenting to the public the result of several months' careful and conscientious labor. In doing so, they hope that the perusal of these leaves will bring to the hearts of the readers much joy, many happy recollections of the past, and inspire continued faithfulness in the Gospel of Jesus, first proclaimed in the northern countries half a century ago.

The publishers, while doing their utmost to present all the data with historic accuracy, dare not hope to have been able to do so in every instance, the time for publication being too short for an absolutely accurate work of this kind. But they trust that no serious errors have crept into the pages. And now, in sending this little volume out among its friends, we hope and pray for the speedy coming of the day when all faithful laborers in the cause of truth shall receive their final reward.

THE SCANDINAVIAN MISSION.

MESSENGERS SENT FORTH.

HE general conference held in Salt Lake City in October, 1849, marked an important epoch in the history of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. On that occasion, for the first time in this dispensation, a little army of soldiers of the Cross were sent forth to unfurl the banner of the Gospel to different nations of the earth.

The noble Pioneers, escaped from the fury of mobs, had barely had time to erect for themselves and their families some primitive huts for shelter, and to provide, to some extent, for existence in these valleys, and then their first thought was of reaching their fellowmen with the message entrusted to them by God. They were not in a position to form missionary societies, with monthly, or annual, contributions; they had no facilities for rearing colleges and universities in which to equip missionaries for the work of the ministry, according to the pattern of the world; they were separated from civilization by a stretch of desert, one thousand miles wide, and risked their lives in untold perils, whenever they set out to cross this expanse. But the voice of the Lord had come to them: "For verily, the sound must go forth from this place into all the world, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth—the Gospel must be preached unto every creature, with signs following them that believe. And behold the Son of man cometh." (Doc. and Cov. 58: 64, 65.) They knew that the Lord never gives a command without imparting power to comply with it, and therefore, notwithstanding their poverty and all other disadvantages, they offered themselves on the altar. The following brethren were called to leave the valley for foreign missions:

To England—Apostle Franklin D. Richards, and Elders

Joseph W. Johnson, Joseph W. Young, Haden W. Church, George B. Wallace and John S. Higbee.

To France—Apostle John Taylor, and Elders Curtis E. Bolton and John Paek.

To Italy—Apostle, now President, Lorenzo Snow and Elder Joseph Toronto.

To Denmark—Apostle Erastus Snow and Peter O. Hansen.

To Sweden—Elder John E. Forsgren.

To the Society Islands—Elders Addison Pratt, James Brown, and Hiram Blackwell.

Two Scandinavian countries,—Denmark and Sweden—were thus among the first to be selected to receive the invitation to the “marriage feast of the Lamb.” Undoubtedly among the inhabitants of northern Europe the seed of Israel is abundant.

The missionary zeal manifested at this early period of the history of the Church is better appreciated, if it is remembered that at this time the Saints in Utah numbered only about 5,000 souls. They were battling against the climate, and the countless insects, as well as drought. The situation here was described in the General Epistle by the First Presidency, issued in the spring of 1849: “In the former part of February, the Bishops took an inventory of the breadstuff in the valley, when it was reported that there was little more than three-fourths of a pound per day for each soul, until the 5th of July; and considerable was known to exist which was not reported. As a natural consequence some were nearly destitute, while others had abundance. The common price of corn since harvest has been two dollars; some have sold for three; at present there is none in the market at any price. Wheat has ranged from four to five dollars, and potatoes from six to twenty dollars per bushel, and though not to be bought at any price at present, it is expected there will be a good supply for seed by another year.”

This will give an idea of the temporal condition of the Saints at the time the Scandinavian mission was founded. Did the world ever present a more striking example of that implicit faith in God, which conquers all difficulties and obtains victory?

THE WAY PREPARED.

THE student of history can clearly perceive that the Scandinavian countries at this time were being specially prepared to receive the Gospel of Jesus. In Denmark the ancient spirit of liberty, too long held captive in the narrow formalism of the state-church, commenced to break its chains. We will only mention the eloquent plea for religious liberty by Dr. A.G. Rudelbach, and the iconoclastic thunderbolts hurled with unerring precision by Dr. Søren Kjerkegaard. Such efforts were not without effect. They prepared the masses for the light that was to break forth, and gave an entirely new direction to the religious life. And their voices were heard far beyond the boundaries of Denmark. They re-echoed through the valleys and mountains of the Scandinavian peninsula, on both sides of Kjølén.

Religious liberty and liberty of the press became two of the characteristics of the constitution framed for the kingdom of Denmark in 1849—the year when the Scandinavian mission was decided on—and later signed by King Frederik VII. Without these concessions, it is difficult to see, how the standard of the Gospel could have been planted in the three northern countries.

Whenever the Lord undertakes to bring forth among His children something out of the ordinary, something more directly preparatory for the advent of His Son, He always raises up messengers to prepare the way. And in this light the various preachers of repentance in the Scandinavian countries in the first half of this century must be considered. In Hamburg, Pastor Oncken had succeeded in gathering a circle of friends who believed in baptism by immersion, as taught by the English and American Baptists. And from Hamburg this spark of Scripture light was brought to Copenhagen by P. C. Mønster and to Gothenburg by F. O. Nilsson, a sailor. The latter embraced the doctrines of the Baptists in the year 1847, and gained some friends in Gothenburg, but he was promptly banished from Sweden. In the year 1849 a young Lutheran clergyman, Pastor A. Viberg, wrote against the established church and was suspended for six months. But he never returned to that church. He embraced the faith of the Baptists and was baptized in Copenhagen by Mr. Nilsson, who was then in banishment. Mr. Viberg unfolded great religious activity, and was wonderfully successful. Through him thousands were drawn away from the state-church, and the path he had broken was followed by a number of various denominations. In Norway the work of preparing the way for the Gospel may be said to have devolved upon the famous preacher of repentance, Hans Nilsen Hauge, who died in the year 1824, and upon his followers. He never renounced the doctrines of the established church, but he laid bare, without mercy, the rationalism and hypocrisy of the clerical caste. He was a man without much book learning, but with burning zeal for what he considered the truth. He insisted that he was commissioned by God to cry repentance, and although he was incarcerated for ten years for his religion, he remained faithful. In his twenty-sixth year he commenced to preach to his friends, and then he traveled throughout the entire country of Norway, and finally went to Denmark, in the year 1800, where he also gained many followers.

There were in the Scandinavian countries many noble messengers, who each in his day prepared the way for the Gospel. It was all the work of the Almighty. It was a manifestation of that Power, which had set about to gather together the dry bones in the valley, and which will not cease, until they are all clothed over with new forms, in which the divine Spirit lives.

THE GOSPEL IN DENMARK.

AJOURNEY across the American continent and the ocean at that time was an undertaking of the magnitude of which the present generation, with its ocean grey hounds and fast express trains, hardly can have a true conception. The conference was held on the 6th and 7th of October, and it was already late in the season for a trip across the mountains. But the missionaries had been called, and set apart, for a work of vast importance, and they did not hesitate. They made such preparations as time and their limited means would permit, and on the 19th of October they were gathered at the mouth of Emigration canyon, where they were organized into a traveling party, by President Brigham Young. There were thirty-five men in the party, with twelve wagons and forty-two horses and mules. Shadrach Roundy was appointed captain. And now the start was made. The hand of the Lord was over the little party. According to the testimony of Elder John Taylor, the season was inclement, but the preserving hand of the Almighty was clearly seen. "The snows had fallen," says Elder Taylor, "on our right and left, but with a slight fall on the Sweetwater, and another on the day of our arrival at Old Fort Kearney, we have escaped unharmed."

The party arrived at Fort Kearney on the Missouri river on the 7th of Dec., 1849, and a few days later at Kanesville, where they were received by the Saints with many tokens of love and joy. From Kanesville the missionaries took different routes to the coast, and across the Atlantic. Peter O. Hansen landed in Liverpool on the 8th of April, 1850; Erastus Snow came there on the 16th, and John E. Forsgren on the 19th. At the time there were about 30,000 Saints in Great Britain, and those set apart for the European mission were aided financially by them. Elder P. O. Hansen proceeded to Scotland, where he was liberally provided for by the Saints, and from there he went to his native land, Denmark, arriving in Copenhagen on the 11th of May, 1850. One of his first efforts was the publication of a little pamphlet entitled "En Advarsel til Folket" (A Warning to the Nation). Elder Erastus Snow, the Apostle, spent several weeks in England and Scotland among the Saints, but finally he was prepared to start for the goal of his long journey. He left London on the 8th of June, accompanied by Elder George P. Dykes, who had performed missionary work among the Norwegians in La Salle county, Ill., in 1842, and who consequently had some knowledge of the Danish-Norwegian tongue. In Hull the two Elders were joined by Elder

John E. Forsgren. The three embarked in the steamer Victoria on the 11th of June, and arrived in Copenhagen on Friday, the 14th of the same month, at ten o'clock in the morning. They were met at the landing by Elder P. O. Hansen, who conducted them to a hotel, and here, in their room, one of their first acts was to offer up thanksgivings to the Almighty for His preserving care over them, and to dedicate themselves to His service in this to them foreign land, imploring His protection and blessings upon their labors.

On the following day, the little party, after earnest prayers, set out to find a family with whom to stop. Their quest was not in vain. The Lord guided them to No. 196, Bredgade, where one Mr. Lauritz B. Malling lived, of whom they rented a large and commodious upper room, boarding with the family. They were treated with the utmost courtesy. Malling and his wife, later, joined the Church, though they did not remain long within its folds.

The kingdom of heaven has been likened to a mustard seed, which, though small, grows to a large tree. From a small beginning it develops into large proportions. It was so in Denmark. On Sunday, June 16, the missionaries commenced their work by attending a meeting conducted by Rev. Peter C. Mønster, a Baptist minister who had suffered much persecution, at the instigation of the Lutheran clergy. Mr. Møn-ster received the strangers cordially. In the afternoon they had a pleasant conversation with Captain Simonsen, a gentleman, who gave them much valuable information of the country and the people.

On Monday they received a call from Rev. Mønster, the Baptist minister. He told the brethren the quite interesting story of his religious labors and his sufferings, at the hands of mobs as well as of officers of the law. The Elders, in turn, told him of the work of the Lord in America, and explained to him the nature of their message. They assured him that they had not come to undo what the Lord had done through him, but to aid him and his people to still greater perfection. The interview was a pleasant one.

On Tuesday, June 18, Elders Erastus Snow and George P. Dykes paid a visit to Walter Forward, the U. S. minister in Copenhagen. He welcomed them cordially and made many inquiries about the "Mormons" and their religion. He denounced the spirit of persecution that had been rampant in the United States, and promised the missionaries every assistance he could render.

On the 19th Elders Dykes and Hansen visited Rev. P. C. Mønster and imparted to him much instruction. They also visited other families and bore their testimony wherever they found an opportunity to do so. The result was that they very soon found themselves surrounded by a circle of friends, some of whom were earnestly investigating the Gospel. On the 21st of July the first public meeting was held at the house of Peter Bäckström, Store Kongens Gade. Quite a number of Baptists were present, and a spirit of investigation was manifest. The Lord was opening the way for a great and marvelous work.

If the brethren had entertained the hope that Rev. Mønster would be among those who received the Gospel, they were doomed to disappointment. As soon as he realized that the work of the missionaries of necessity would result in the establishment of a church separate from the Baptist denomination, he retreated and warned his flock from having friendly associations with the Elders. It costs much self-abnegation for a man in Mr. Mønster's position, to embrace the truth. He had left the Lutheran church, undoubtedly after a long mental struggle, and identified himself with a people, despised and persecuted. Was he to take another step and incur still greater persecutions? He concluded not to do this. But some of his flock had already accepted the Gospel, and decided to ask for baptism at the hands of the Elders. Elder Snow rather held them back, urging them to investigate fully the principles taught. At last, however, he was shown in a dream, that it would be acceptable to the Lord, to grant baptism to those who had applied for the ordinance, and he concluded not to postpone the matter any longer.

On Monday, the 12th of August, 1850, the holy ordinance was performed in the waters of Øresund, by Elder Erastus Snow. He had learnt some Danish by this time, and uttered the impressive words: "Ole Ulrich Christian Mønster, Med Fuldmagt fra Jesum Christum døber jeg dig i Faderens, Sønnens og den Helligaands Navn. Amen." O. U. C. Mønster (not the previously mentioned Rev. Mønster) was the first one baptized in this dispensation in Denmark. There were fourteen others baptized at the same time. They were: Marie Mønster, the wife of O. U. C. Mønster, Hans Larsen, and wife, Eline Dorthea; Andreas C. S. Hansen, and wife, Anna; Johan B. Førster and wife, Henriette; Andreas Aagren, Anna Bäckström, Johanne Andersen; Marie Nielson, Jacobsen, Langstorff, and a man whose name is not on the records. It was a beautiful Danish summer evening, when the holy rite was performed. Anna Bäckström, the first woman baptized, afterwards became the wife of Elder Erastus Snow. She is still living and residing in Salt Lake City. On the following Wednesday, the 14th of August, the ordinance of the laying on of hands for the reception of the Holy Ghost was attended to in the house of Peter Bäckström, and those who had been baptized were confirmed members of the Church.

The corner stone had been laid for a grand and magnificent structure. The seed sown with many a prayer and supplication had started to grow. The Lord had stretched out His hands to gather His people from the northern lands.

Four days after the first baptism, eleven more converts were added to the Church. Among these were Knud H. Bruun, and Christen Christiansen. Brother Bruun was the first member of the Danish Lutheran church to embrace the Gospel. Elder Dykes performed the baptism.

On Sunday, the 18th of August, 1850, the converts were confirmed members of the Church in the house of Hans Larsen. Three children were also blessed on this occasion. Four more persons were baptized on that day, and among these were Peter Bäckström.

On Sunday, the 25th of August, the Sacrament was administered for the first time in Denmark, in the house of Hans Larsen. Brother Bruun was ordained a Priest, and another brother was ordained a Teacher.

During the month of September the brethren appealed to the Kultus minister, or secretary of ecclesiastical affairs, for permission to preach in Denmark, and their request was granted, but his excellency informed them, that they might have trouble with the police, owing to the evil reports circulated about the "Mormons"—a prediction that proved but too true.

On the 15th of September, 1850, the first branch of the Church was organized in a rented room in Vingaardstrædet, with a membership of about 50, and Elder George P. Dykes as president. John B. Førster was appointed clerk, and Lauritz B. Malling, Ole Swendsen, and Andreas Aagren a finance committee.

A suitable hall was now rented, and the work proceeded. Baptisms were performed, and the power of God was manifest in spiritual gifts.

About this time Elder Snow issued his well known pamphlet "En Sandheds Røst," and later a translation of the Book of Mormon was prepared for the press by Elders Snow and P. O. Hansen. Elder Forsgren, who had been banished from Sweden, was appointed to labor in Copenhagen and vicinity, and Elder Dykes went to Aalborg, Jylland.

While the brethren were laboring faithfully and successfully, the adversary mustered his forces, too. The newly baptized converts were the objects of hatred and persecution. One of the most active persecutors was stricken by the hand of the Lord, and became a raving maniac, literally possessed by an evil spirit, but this did not deter others from raging against the Saints. On account of the disturbances by mobs, the public meetings had to be discontinued for a time, and the Saints gathered quietly in their homes, where they engaged in prayer and worship. They also sent a deputation to the king, Frederik VII, presenting him with a copy of the Book of Mormon and Elder Snow's "En Sandheds Røst." It is said the king sent the books to the queen dowager, and that they made such an impression on her, that she became sick for several days.

At the close of the year 1850, there were about 130 members of the Church in Denmark. The foundation had been laid for the Scandinavian mission, which has been, and is, so important a part of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

LIGHT BROUGHT TO SWEDEN.

AS ALREADY stated, at the October conference held in Salt Lake City in the year 1849, Elder John E. Forsgren was set apart as a messenger of the Gospel to Sweden. Accordingly, he took an affectionate farewell of his brethren in Copenhagen on the 19th of June, 1850, and proceeded to Gefle, his native town. "He took leave of us," says Apostle Erastus Snow, "with our blessings upon his head, and full of the Holy Ghost, though his eyes were full of tears and his heart ready to burst."

It has often been the case that the messengers of the Gospel have found the way prepared before them by the Lord, through visions, or dreams, and Elder Forsgren had a similar experience. On his arrival in Gefle he learned that his sister some time previous had had a remarkable vision which had made a deep impression upon her. She was sitting in church one Sunday morning, having previously engaged in devotional exercises. As the hymn was sung, she saw clearly a personage standing before her, who said: "On the 5th of July a man will come to you with three books, and all those that believe in the things written in the books shall be saved." When Elder Forsgren arrived with the Bible, the Book of Mormon, and the Doctrine and Covenants, she believed his testimony.

The Lord, further, sealed his preaching with a wonderful miracle of healing. Elder Forsgren's brother, Peter, was suffering of consumption, but he was completely restored through faith and prayer. He was the first to receive baptism, on the 19th of July. Elder Peter A. Forsgren is still a faithful member of the Church, residing in Brigham City, Utah. Shortly afterwards, on the 3rd of August, Elder Forsgren baptized his sister and two other persons.

Elder Peter Forsgren relates a remarkable incident. His brother was one day summoned to the office of the public prosecutor, and the latter asked him if he had a picture of the Prophet Joseph. He procured a picture, and the officer set fire to it. While it was burning, Elder John Forsgren had a vision in which he saw the city of Gefle destroyed by fire. He told his friends of this vision, and also that they would be in America, when the visitation would take place. Nineteen years from the date of the burning of Joseph's picture, the city of Gefle was almost totally destroyed by fire, and the conflagration started in the very house, where the picture of the Prophet had been sacrificed to the flames.

Elder Peter Forsgren continued his labor under many difficulties. Among the first to embrace the Gospel were seventeen persons who were about to emigrate to the United States. Some of these, it is believed, found their way to the settlements of the Saints in the West.

According to the laws of Sweden at that time it was a criminal offense for anybody but regularly appointed clergymen, to preach the Gospel, or administer in the sacred ordinances. The consequence was that the faithful messenger of the Lord was arrested and sent to Stockholm, the capital of the kingdom. As a prisoner he had many opportunities, as the Apostle Paul formerly, to bear his testimony to civil and ecclesiastical authorities, and his name became known all over the country. In the capital, many flocked around him and listened to his message of love and salvation. Finally it was decided to banish him and send him to America. He was then put aboard a vessel. But he soon gained favor with the captain, and when the ship touched at Øresund he was given an opportunity to escape to Elsinore, where the American minister gave him protection against the persecution instigated by the Swedish consul at that place. In company with the American minister, he arrived in Copenhagen on the 18th of September, 1850.

Not till 1852 was another attempt made to bring the message of salvation to the inhabitants of the famous "gamla Sverige." In the spring of that year Elder Mikael Johnson, a native of Sweden, who had embraced the Gospel in Denmark, was sent to Gefle, the scene of Elder Forsgren's labors. He found that the Saints had remained faithful, and they rejoiced greatly, when he came. Elder Johnson soon baptized a few persons, when he was arrested and sent to Stockholm. He was denied a trial, and was simply transported in chains, as a dangerous criminal, from the capital to the city of Malmö in the southern province of the kingdom. His sufferings on the road were great. In Malmö a Lutheran clergyman visited him, and asked him to renounce "Mormonism," promising him preferment in the Lutheran church. But the martyr refused to listen to the tempter, and reminded him of the "gentleman" that approached Jesus, when He was hungry in the wilderness. "What," the indignant minister exclaimed, "do you compare me to the devil!" Elder Johnson was subsequently sent over Øresund and delivered to the police in Copenhagen, a proceeding which was peculiarly irregular, since Brother Johnson was a Swedish subject and had not even had a trial. He arrived in Copenhagen on the 9th of September, 1852.

It seemed as if every effort to preach the Gospel of Jesus in Sweden would be in vain, against the acts of persecution to which the clergy resorted with such persistency and seemingly fiendish delight. But the work was slowly developing. At the spring conference held in Copenhagen in 1852, previous to the departure home of Elder Erastus Enow, the Apostle, Elders Anders W. Winberg and Nils Capson were sent as missionaries to the province of Skåne. Elder Winberg left Copenhagen on the 21st of April, 1852, and went to the city of Lund, where his parents were living. Here he met with success, and on the 7th of June, the same year, he baptized his sister and brother-in-law, Peter Peterson and wife. On the 10th of August he baptized Carl Capson and Fredrik Lundblad. The two missionaries then went to Copenhagen for a short visit, but returned to their field of labor in company with Elder Holmsted. These three labored with much diligence, and success. Some of the converts went to Copenhagen to be baptized in order to avoid legal complications in Sweden. The persecution still raged, but the work continued spreading, and on the 24th of April, 1853, the first branch of the Church in Sweden was organized on the estate Skurup. It was called the Skönabäck branch and numbered 36 members. Elder Peter Peterson presided. A second branch was organized in the city of Malmö on the 25th of April. Hans Lundblad was appointed president. A third branch was organized in a village called Lomma, over which Elder A. Jönson presided. The fourth branch was organized in the city of Lund, on the 30th of April, over which Elder Carl Capson was appointed president.

On Saturday evening, the 25th of June, 1853, a meeting was held in the city of Lund, in a barn belonging to Carl Capson, and four branches were combined into the so-called Skåne conference, over which Elder Hans Lundblad was appointed president. About one hundred persons were present on this occasion, and among them were the late Elder Peter O. Hanson, and Elder O. Liljenquist, now partriarch.

The Gospel seed had been planted in Sweden. It has yielded an abundant harvest of precious souls.

THE MESSAGE IN NORWAY.

WHEN the time was ripe for the introduction of the Gospel to Norway, the Lord opened the way. As anciently He led Peter to the house of Cornelius, or Philip to the wagon of the devout Ethiopian, so He directed the first Norwegian Saints to His servants.

A Norwegian skipper, who often sailed between Østerrisør and Aalborg (Denmark) heard through a friend named Olsen, a resident of the latter place, about the new doctrine, and at once a desire was kindled in his heart to learn more about it. At the same time the Spirit impressed Erastus Snow, the Apostle, to make a visit to Aalborg. He arrived at this place on the 27th of August, 1851, and the following week received a visit from Mr. Larsen. Elder Snow writes: "While stopping with Brother Hans Peter Jensen, in Nørre Sundby, a Norwegian by the name of Svend Larsen, the master of a small merchant vessel, came and visited me. He said he had heard of me, and my religion, and had come with a view to learn more about it. I improved the opportunity to explain to him the principles of the Gospel and the order of the kingdom of God, as it had been revealed from the Lord; he received my testimony with gladness. His vessel being ready to sail for Norway, I called and appointed Elder Hans T. Petersen to go with Mr. Larsen home to open up the Gospel door in Norway. The two sailed together on the 4th of September, well supplied with Books of Mormon and tracts." The vessel encountered fearful storms and had to seek shelter twice in the harbor of Frederikshavn. It seemed as if the adversary was bent upon destroying the frail craft that carried the Gospel messengers across the water, but the hand of the Lord was over His servants, and they landed safely in Østerrisør on the 11th of September, 1851.

The next day Elder Petersen commenced to visit the people and distribute tracts. Having no passport he was soon summoned to appear before the authorities to render an account of himself. He explained the object of his coming and added that if it was contrary to the law to hold public meetings, he would confine his work to private conversations. He was then permitted to go, with the understanding that he was to procure his passport, and he continued to hold conversations with people that visited him. Soon he found it necessary, however, to return to Aalborg. He took passage for that place in Captain Larsen's vessel, and arrived there on the 23rd of September. In the evening of that day Captain Larsen was baptized by Elder Ole Christian Nielsen, and was the first Norwegian to enter the Church in the old country.

On the 5th of October, Elder Petersen, in company with Elder Johan August Ahmansen, embarked for the second time for Østerrisør in Norway. They found shelter this time at the home of one John Olsen, and here the Elders soon found an opportunity to preach the Gospel to a large crowd which unexpectedly gathered at the house. They also bore their testimony wherever they found people willing to listen to them. On the 2nd of November Elder Petersen held the first public meeting at a place called Rød. On the 26th of November he baptized Peter Adamsen and John Olsen, and then the clouds of persecution that had been gathering for some time broke over the few Saints. A mob gathered determined to do violence to Brother Petersen. They did not find him, though a careful search was made of the house in which he was. The gathering of the mob continued, and he appealed to the authorities for protection. He was then summoned to appear before the mayor and explain why he had administered the ordinance of baptism without having "authority" to do so. He produced his Church credentials, which were sent to the amtmand, or governor, at Arendal, but that official refused to recognize those credentials, and he was prohibited from officiating in any ecclesiastical acts.

He now decided to leave Østerrisør but before he could do so, on the evening of the 12th of December, 1851, the house where he was staying was forcibly entered by a crowd which demanded that the "Mormon priest" be turned over to them. They ransacked the house in vain. They could not find him. It was as if their eyes had been stricken with blindness. The mobbers were dispersed by the police.

On the 14th of December Elder Petersen had a pleasant interview with Svend Peter Larsen from Frederikstad, who came from that place to see him. He was on his way to Bergen, and Elder Petersen decided to accompany him. Larsen was the commander of a little coasting vessel. Their first stopping place was Arendal, and here the missionary bore his testimony to many souls. On Jan. 4, 1852, they landed in Mandal, where they remained one week, preaching the Gospel. On one occasion they found a large audience in a house where they had been to dinner, and in the audience was Pastor Vogt, an influential clergyman and member of the parliament. This gentleman said Elder Petersen had not spoken the truth, and was promptly challenged to prove his assertion. He failed to accept the challenge, and Brother Petersen made many friends in the audience.

On the 18th of January they arrived in Bergen, one of the most ancient and important cities of the kingdom of Norway, and here Elder Petersen spent the winter. He went from house to house and bore his testimony to the people. He labored faithfully under many difficulties and deprivations until early in April, when he left for Copenhagen in company with his friend Larsen. The Lord had opened up the way for him to preach the Gospel in several of the principal cities of the kingdom.

Brother Svend Larsen and other Saints in Østerrisør continued to hold meetings and to spread Gospel tracts. They also sent a petition to the government to be permitted to form a church in accordance with the provisions of the Dissenter law, but their petition was not granted, the theological faculty in Christiania having ruled that the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints are not "Christians." They were thus deprived of the religious liberty granted by law to other dissenters.

On the 10th of June, 1852, Elders Hans Peter Jensen and Johan A. Ahmansen landed in Brevig, where they held meetings and distributed tracts. They found bitter opponents in a newspaper editor, a clergyman and a school teacher. Elder Jensen proceeded to Østerrisør, where he ordained Brother Svend Larsen an Elder and blessed his children. On the 25th he baptized six persons. Then he went to Arendal, Christiansand and Mandal. He had a remarkable experience on this journey. On his arrival in Mandal, his feet were so badly blistered that he was unable to proceed any further. But he was unable to secure shelter here, so he decided to trust in the Lord, and return to Østerrisør, a distance of about 80 miles. Strange to say, as he proceeded on his weary journey, his feet grew better, and when he arrived at his destination, he was free from sores and felt as strong as ever. In one place he met a bear, and the two eyed one another with mutual suspicions for a moment. Then the bear took another course and left the traveler to ponder over the goodness of the Lord.

Brother Jensen arrived in Østerrisør on the 8th of July, and about that time the first branch of the Church in Norway was organized in that city, with eighteen members and John Olsen as presiding Elder.

On the 18th of July Elder Jensen returned in company with Brother Swend Larsen to Brevig. Here they hired a hall and preached the Gospel. Clergymen frequented their meetings.

In the month of August a small vessel was bought, and named "The Lion of Zion." It was to be at the service of the Elders in traveling from place to place along the coast. It became very useful both in Norway and in Denmark. At Frederikstad a branch was soon organized.

Elder Jensen returned to Denmark in July, 1852, in their little mission vessel, having appointed Elder John A. Ahmansen to preside over the Norwegian mission. On the voyage they encountered a terrific storm and were driven toward the Swedish coast. However, they were rescued by an English frigate, and, the storm having abated, steered for Denmark. The next day they arrived at Aalborg.

The work was continued in Norway by Elder Johan A.

Ahmansen and Jeppe G. Folkman. They organized the third branch in Brevig with about fifteen members. In August of the year 1852, the Church numbered about fifty members in Norway. The foundation had been laid for the work that was continued by the many faithful laborers that in after years preached the Gospel, and suffered persecution and deprivations, in the beautiful land of the Midnight Sun.

THE OPPOSING FORCES MEET.

HE difficulties attending the introduction of the Gospel in the Scandinavian countries are best understood from the experiences of the Elders, who suffered persecution in various ways. The following statement of Elder Dykes is but a sample of many. He wrote:

“On the 27th of June, 1851, I landed in Hamburg, and proceeded immediately on my journey over land, and by traveling day and night I was enabled to reach the city of Aalborg, my former field of labor; but, indeed, too late to save the little flock from a very heavy blow. The spirit of persecution had arisen, and the mob had assembled and broken the windows of the Saints’ meeting house, and demolished all the furniture within; and thence, proceeding from house to house, they had broken the windows of nearly all the dwellings of the Saints in the city, while the civil authorities looked on with seeming indifference.

“A few days after these things occurred I entered the city: I had not heard a word of them till I stood by the side of the house where I had so often met with the Saints, and where I had preached the word to sinners. But I leave you to judge of my feelings, when, instead of meeting the joyful smiles of beloved Saints, I saw the windows and furniture of the house broken to pieces, and no Saints to welcome me there; for they were not now privileged to appear in the streets without being grossly insulted, and sometimes shamefully beaten.

“While I was thus pondering over these things, an officer appeared and requested me to come immediately to the mayor’s office, which I did, and that officer peremptorily told me I had better leave the city forthwith, as he would not promise me protection from the mob for one hour. And as there was a steamer then at the wharf to sail that afternoon for Copenhagen I went on board. But the mob, hearing that I was in the city, began to gather; some went to the mayor’s office to find me, but he told them he had me in prison. Others went to the ship, but the captain told them I had left and gone up into the city; and thus they were ranging about for me till the appointed hour for sailing, when I think there were more than a thousand persons assembled on the beach. I remained in the cabin till we were fairly out of reach, when I came up on deck to see the sight; and being thus delivered I gave God the glory.”

But such experiences were not the most discouraging. It sometimes happened that members of the Church fell into transgression, and were literally given over to the "buffetings of Satan." Then the faith of the Elders was tried indeed.

But the "little stone" rolled on, and grew on its onward course. Half a century has now been recorded in the annals of history, since the work was commenced, and during this time 23,349 souls have by baptism been added to the Church in Denmark; 16,043 in Sweden, and 5,643 in Norway, or, in all, 45,035. During the same time, 12,317 Saints have emigrated from Denmark to Utah; 6,942 from Sweden, and 2,312 from Norway—a total of 21,571. In these numbers small children are not included. It is supposed their number would swell the grand total by one-third. By adding the descendants of these industrious immigrants to the numbers given, an idea may be formed of the part the Scandinavian Saints have had in the development of this beautiful region. The action taken by the October conference, 1849, when the Church was poor in everything but faith in God, and spiritual gifts, has indeed borne wonderful fruits.

According to the latest statistics there are three conferences in each of the three Scandinavian countries. In Denmark, the Copenhagen, Aarhus, and Aalborg conferences; in Sweden, the Stockholm, Gothenburg, and Malmö conferences, and in Norway, the Christiania, Bergen and Trondhjem conferences. There are twenty-two branches of the Church in Sweden, with 2,288 members. In Denmark there are seventeen branches, with 1,185 members, and in Norway nineteen branches with 965 members, or in all, fifty-eight branches with 4,438 members. If the 994 children under eight years of age are added, the total is 5,432 members of the Church.

In Sweden there are now 60 missionaries from Zion; in Denmark 58, and in Norway 40.

MISSIONARIES AND VISITORS.

FOLLOWING is a complete list of missionaries from Zion, who have labored in, or visited, the Scandinavian mission. The figures before a name indicate the second or third mission, and the stars indicate those who have only paid a brief visit to the mission:

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The large church with the tall steeple is called the Church of the Savior (Frelserens Kirke); but the small, unpretentious building to the left (on the picture) with the gable-end to the street is one of the most interesting relics connected with the early history of "Mormonism" in Scandinavia. For a number of years commencing with April, 1851, it was rented for meeting purposes by the Latter-day Saints, the second story being converted into one fair-sized room, in which about one hundred and fifty could assemble with some degree of comfort, and there all the council meetings were held as long as Apostle Erastus Snow remained, and for some time afterwards, until the premises proved to be too small for general meetings. In that hall many of our veteran Elders received their first degrees of the Holy Priesthood, and there they afterwards bore their testimony to the truth in power that astonished their former associates, for nearly all of them had come from the poor and unpretentious classes of working people.

In the basement of this old building lived Father Nikolai Dorlus with his family, and F. C. Sørensen with his family lived above the meeting hall; just around the corner lived the Hanberg family, who all became members of the Church in those early days.

This part of Copenhagen is mostly inhabited by the working classes, and therefore that locality was selected in order to give the poor a better opportunity to come out to hear the Gospel.—C. C. A. Christensen.
